PARTICIPANTS

The Boston University School of Law Graduate Tax Program, established in 1959, was one of the first of its kind in the nation and continues to be one of the best. The program is also one of the largest in the country with 57 full-time students and 85 part-time students. These talented attorneys, who received their law degrees from approximately 43 law schools in the U.S. and 15 overseas institutions, are diverse by every measure.

Students and Graduates: The program's students include both recent graduates of U.S. law schools as well as seasoned attorneys from both private and public sectors. International students comprise a small but growing percentage of the student body. Most program graduates are engaged in private practice at law and accounting firms and several work for government agencies and corporate law departments.

Curriculum and Degree Requirements: The curriculum offers a balance between tax law theory and practical application. Students have access to a curriculum that is truly enviable in its breadth and depth, making it possible to select from over 35 challenging courses and gain exposure to all areas of tax, or to concentrate on courses in a particular practice area such as business organizations and transactions; individual, family, and estate tax; or international tax.

Recruiting Information: Recruiting Information: Please direct inquiries to the Assistant Director for LL.M. Career Advising at (617) 358-5193 or smarshal@bu.edu. Also, visit our website at www.bu.edu/law/tare.

Graduate Tax is the college's premier signature program. It is widely recognized by tax scholars and practitioners nationwide as one of the nation's best. The LL.M. in Taxation has been offered for over 30 years, and more than 1,900 students have earned their LL.M. in Taxation from UF since it began in 1974. To meet increasing demand for international expertise, the tax program began offering an LL.M. in International Taxation in 2005.

Students and Graduates: The Graduate Tax students have outstanding academic credentials from law schools throughout the nation, and from many foreign countries. UF tax alumni are known for their quality in law firms and government agencies, international accounting firms, corporations and often as tax professors at other law schools. Many have had law practice or other work experience before entering the program, and most have graduated in the top quarter of their respective law school classes.

Academic Requirements and Curriculum: UF's renowned Graduate Tax faculty members are authors of some of the most widely used textbooks and treatises, and lecture at numerous conferences and institutes in the United States and abroad. They have been leaders in professional organizations and consultants for the Internal Revenue Service and other major public and private entities. Students study a broad range of topics, concentrate on particular interests, debate major issues of tax policy and study the fine detail of recent tax legislation.

Recruiting Information: Please direct inquiries to UF Law Career Services at (352) 273-0860 or visit us online at www.law.ufl.edu/career/employers/llm.shtml.

Northwestern Law

Northwestern Law established the Tax Program in 2002. It has been recognized as a leader in the field, preparing students for the practice of tax law in today's rapidly changing business environment.

Students and Graduates: We retain a small class size at Northwestern to enhance the experience of students participating in this program. Despite our relatively recent inception, the Tax Program has many loyal and successful alumni in a diverse range of careers including practicing tax lawyers at top law firms, law clerks at the U.S. Tax Court, positions with the Office of Chief Counsel for the I.R.S., and positions at accounting and consulting firms.

Academic Requirements and Curriculum: The LL.M. Tax curriculum requires a solid foundation in the four principal areas of tax law - corporate taxation, partnership taxation, international taxation, and the taxation of property transactions. Beyond the required courses, students are free to design their own program of study from approximately 20 different tax electives.

Recruiting Information: Please direct inquiries to the Associate Director for the LL.M. in Taxation Program at (312) 503-2867 or visit us online through our website at www.law.northwestern.edu/career.
