

Law & Policy in the Americas Program
Speakers Spring 2006

Jorge Santistevan, Former Ombudsman of Peru

Jorge Santistevan presented a talk on "Civil Society and Human Rights: the Truth and Reconciliation Commission and the Defensoría del Pueblo in Peru" to law students and faculty on Monday, January 30, 2006 in the law school faculty dining room. This event was co-sponsored by the International Law Society

*** Mr. Santistevan received the award of Best Speaker by the International Law Students Association for this talk.

Carlos Patrón, Attorney, Payet, Rey & Cauvi and Lecturer, Pontificia Universidad Católica del Perú.

Carlos Patrón presented a talk on "Free Trade in the Americas: Globalization and Neo-Nationalism, through the lens of the Peru Trade Promotion Agreement" to law students and faculty on Friday, February 24, 2006 in the law school faculty dining room. This event was co-sponsored by the Center for International Business Education and Research (CIBER).

Dr. Ana Sittenfeld, University of Costa Rica Office of International Affairs and External Cooperation; Former Executive Director, Costa Rica Institute for Biological Diversity (INBio); Founding Director, Costa Rica - USA Foundation.

Dr. Ana Sittenfeld presented a talk on "Biodiversity, Bioprospecting and Intellectual Property: The Case of Costa Rica and Merck Pharmaceuticals" to law students and faculty on Wednesday, March 1, 2006 in Room 283, Holland Hall. This event was co-sponsored by the Environmental and Land Use Law Society and the International Law Society.

Lilia Ferro, Professor of International Politics and International Relations, University of Uruguay; and Legal Advisor to the Supreme Court of Uruguay.

Lilia Ferro presented a talk on "The Legacy of Human Rights Violations post-Authoritarian Regimes in the Southern Cone: the Cases of Argentina, Chile and Uruguay" to law students and faculty on Tuesday, March 7, 2006 in the law school faculty dining room. This event was co-sponsored by the International Law Society.

Mauricio Duce, Director of Training, Justice Studies Center of the Americas (CEJA); Professor of Law, Diego Portales University; advisor to Chile's Minister of Justice.

Mauricio Duce presented a talk on "Criminal Justice Reform in Chile: A Radical Transformation from an Inquisitorial to an Adversarial System" to law students and faculty on Tuesday, April 11, 2006 in the law school faculty dining room. This event was co-sponsored by the International Law Society.