Born: November 12, 1942, Milwaukee, Wisconsin
Married; one son, born January 1, 1980

Current Courses: Negotiation, Mediation and Other Dispute Resolution Processes; other courses related to dispute resolution and awareness.

Previous courses: Lawyering: Problem-Solving and Dispute Resolution; Negotiation; Mediation; Dispute Resolution; Understanding Conflict; Damages: A Case Study; LL.M. Major Research Project Seminar Torts; Business Organizations; Legal Journalism: Case Studies with Biographical Profiles (a joint Journalism School-Law School course); Legal Interviewing and Counseling; Family Law; various courses and seminars on Law and Medicine and Law and Psychiatry; Jurisprudence.

Other: As Director of the Center for the Study of Dispute Resolution (CSDR) (<http://www.law.missouri.edu/csdr>) at the University of Missouri-Columbia, I had lead responsibility for developing, managing, and securing funding for an innovative project to introduce dispute resolution across the curriculum and for helping other law schools develop similar initiatives. I also oversaw a number of other efforts--including an LL.M. in dispute resolution program, a mediation clinic, and dispute resolution training activities.

In addition, I serve as Director of the Initiative on Mindfulness in Law and Dispute Resolution, which I launched in 2002 as a part of the CSDR at the University of Missouri, and which soon will be moved to the University of Florida..

For about fifteen years, I was heavily involved in developing the new Center for the Study of Law, Conflict and the Media, a joint effort of the MU Schools of Journalism and Law.
