ELDER LAW
PROFESSOR C. DOUGLAS MILLER

OFFICE LOCATION: 328 HOLLAND

EMAIL: cdouglasmiller@yahoo.com (include "current EL student" in subject line). My law school email is less-frequently monitored than is my personal email and you are encouraged to contact me at my personal address.

PHONE: 273-0689 (via Graduate Tax Office).

OFFICE HOURS: 3:00 – 4:00 W (and by appointment).

COURSE OBJECTIVES: Please refer to course description at www.law.ufl.edu, which I revised for Spring 2012. See also Course Outline hereof.

CASEBOOK: Dayton, Wood , Elder Law: Readings, Cases and Materials (3rd Ed. 2007 LexisNexis)

COURSE OUTLINE: Casebook Chapters 1 (as assigned for first class), 2, 5, 6, 7 (Sec. A) and 11. There will be problem-based exercises in the application of law to facts in search of alternative approaches to a problem or problems in further search of a solution or alternative solutions (i.e., in some classes we will do by simulation what is done in an elder law practice). The problems will be handed out in class.

GRADES: Final Examination (100%). Excessive absences and quality of class participation will be taken into account for borderline exams and to make adjustments necessary to comply with law school class mean g.p.a. requirements.

ATTENDANCE: More than three absences will be considered excessive.

CLASSROOM ACCOMODATIONS: UF Policy applies (see Dean of Students).

 LL.M. in Taxation, New York University (Harry J. Rudick Memorial Award as first in class); member of the inaugural faculty of the Graduate Tax Program; past and founding Director of the Estates and Trusts Certificate Program; past and founding Director of the UF Center for Estate and Elder Law Planning; twice voted Teacher of the Year at UF Law; extensive private practice experience; and a peer review rating of "av preeminent" (5.0 of 5.0 , highest possible rating in both legal ability and ethical standards, Martindale Hubbell) which can be accessed at Lawyers.com.
