ELISANGELA RITA (LL.M. in International Taxation, Class of 2017)
Tax official, Department of International Relations of the Angolan Revenue Authority

“Besides granting me the opportunity to make lifelong friends and colleagues with excellent human beings and prosperous professionals, the most significant gain of the program to me was the fulfillment of having been mentored by some of the most internationally recognized names in the tax field and having access to a world-class qualification that opens professional and networking doors otherwise unreachable.”
MARK PRATER (LL.M. in Taxation, Class of 1987)
Deputy Staff Director, Chief Tax Counsel at Senate Finance Committee Republican Staff, Senate Finance Committee Republican Staff

“Not only were the UF LL.M. tax faculty well-regarded legal scholars, but well-known leading edge practitioners as well. When I entered, the Tax Reform Act of 1986 was in its final legislative stages. The faculty nimbly and ably taught us the landmark law as it was being finalized. In my almost three decades of policy work, I draw on that experience, research and advice.”

PEDRO E. CORONA (LL.M. in International Taxation, Class of 2009)
Senior Associate at Procopio, Cory, Hargreaves & Savitch LLP

“The LL.M. program in International Taxation is excellent and gave me the tools I needed to become a U.S. attorney specializing in international tax law. The bonds created with my colleagues during that time will last forever and continue to help me in the development of my career. Also, the campus life offered a lot of academic and outdoor activities inherent to a first-class university.”
