

TECHNOLOGY, MEDIA & PRIVACY LAW CONFERENCE

April 19, 2018 @ Residence of Director Jon L. Mills

RECEPTION TIME TBA	CATERING TBA
-----------------------	--------------

April 20, 2018 @ University of Florida Levin College of Law

BREAKFAST IN THE COURTYARD 8:00AM-8:30AM	PUBLIX Assorted Breakfast Items, Coffee, Tea, Juice, & Water
OPENING REMARKS Room: HOL 180 8:45AM-9:00AM	Laura A. Rosenbury – Dean, University of Florida Levin College of Law Frank LoMonte – Director, Brechner Center for Freedom of Information Jon L. Mills – Director, Center for Governmental Responsibility
OPENING PLENARY Room: HOL 180 9:15AM-10:15AM	PRIVACY V. FREE SPEECH: PERSPECTIVES FROM THE U.S., E.U., & BRAZIL The Opening Plenary will offer a comparative look at how jurisdictions differ in their prioritization of privacy and free speech. Which approach strikes the best balance? Panelists: Mark Cole – Professor of Media and Telecommunication Law, Université du Luxembourg Ronald Krotoszynski – John S. Stone Chairholder of Law and Director of Faculty Research, University of Alabama Law School Caitlin Mulholland – Department of Law, Pontificia Universidade Católica do Rio de Janeiro Moderator: Robert A. Mandell – Former U.S. Ambassador to Luxembourg

MORNING SESSION Room: HOL 180 10:30AM-11:30AM	ANONYMITY IN THE NEW MEDIA LANDSCAPE: FREE SPEECH OR INVASION OF PRIVACY & DEFAMATION? This Session will address how entities and individuals have an increasing ability to remain anonymous on new media platforms, testing current policies promoting privacy and free speech. When should entities or individuals be allowed to remain anonymous and when should they be unmasked? Where should the line on liability be drawn for internet-service providers? Panelists: Mark R. Caramanica – Partner, Thomas & LoCicero PL A. Michael Froomkin – Laurie Silvers and Mitchell Rubenstein Distinguished Professors of Law, University of Miami School of Law Jasmine McNealy – Assistant Professor, University of Florida Department of Telecommunication Moderator: Ronald Goldfarb – Attorney, Author & Literary Agent
LUNCH 11:45AM-12:15PM	SATCHEL’S PIZZA Assorted Pizzas and Salads
SYMPOSIUM Hosted & Sponsored by the Journal of Law & Public Policy Room: HOL 180 12:30PM-1:30PM	THE BIG STORY IN THE DIGITAL AGE: BEST STRATEGIES AND PRIVACY PITFALLS The Symposium will examine how the digital age has allowed the media greater access to information, leading to newsworthy stories while also revealing detailed information about entities and individuals that may or should deserve privacy protection. What are the best strategies for utilizing new forms of information, such as big data? Also, when should privacy concerns, or other legal and public policy concerns, outweigh the media’s access to these new forms of information? Panelists: Douglas Ray – Editor & General Manager for the Gainesville Sun Margaret Hu – Associate Professor of Law, Washington and Lee University Law School Norman P. Lewis – Associate Professor, University of Florida College of Journalism

AFTERNOON SESSION 1 Room: HOL 180 1:45PM-2:45PM	Moderator: Amy Gajda – Professor of Law, Tulane University Law School FOIA REQUESTS: THE BLURRED LINES OF PRIVACY, FREE SPEECH & NATIONAL SECURITY This Session will address the ramifications of the federal government denying FOIA requests, and state governments denying similar requests, due to privacy and national security concerns. When should privacy and national security concerns outweigh access to information? Should the legal framework be amended to provide for greater access? Panelists: Mark Fenster – Cone, Wagner, Nugent, Hazouri & Roth Tort Professor, University of Florida Levin College of Law Kapil Longani – Senior Counsel, House Committee on Oversight and Government Reform Thomas R. Julin – Shareholder, Gunster Russell L. Weaver – Professor of Law and Distinguished University Scholar, University of Louisville Brandeis School of Law Moderator: W. Hodding Carter III – Emeritus Professor of the Practice, University of North Carolina
AFTERNOON SESSION 2 Room: HOL 180 3:00PM-4:00PM	PROTECTING MEDIA SOURCES: THE LEGAL STANDARDS & ENCRYPTION This Session will address how journalists can and are utilizing encryption to shield their sources and communications from governmental access. It will also address what laws serve to protect or expose journalists' sources and how encryption interacts with those laws. Panelists: Sam Biddle – Technology Reporter, The Intercept Carol Jean LoCicero – Partner, Thomas & LoCicero PL Patrick Traynor – John H. and Mary Lou Dasburg Preeminent Chair in Engineering, University of Florida College of Engineering

	Moderator: Frank LoMonte – Director, Brechner Center for Freedom of Information
CLOSING PLENARY Room: MLAC 4:15PM-5:15PM	REPORTING ON THE FUTURE OF THE MEDIA The Closing Plenary will address how new technologies continue to transform our societal conceptions of “the media.” As new media platforms continue to present new legal, ethical, security, and other public policy issues, how should journalistic ethics and legal systems evolve to address those issues? Panelists: Thomas Fiedler – Dean, Boston University College of Communication Daniela Vargas – Department of Law, Pontificia Universidade Católica do Rio de Janeiro Tracie Powell – Founder, All Digitocracy Moderator: Jon L. Mills – Director, Center for Governmental Responsibility

Sponsored by:
University of Florida Levin College of Law
University of Florida College of Journalism and Communications
Center for Governmental Responsibility
Brechner Center for Freedom of Information
Journal of Law and Public Policy
Bob Graham Center for Public Service
University Press of Florida