One Child, One Advocate, One Voice - Gator TeamChild Motto

Welcome to Gator TeamChild Juvenile Law Clinic. The clinic is divided into two components. There is a PRACTICE component and SKILLS component. You are registered for 9 credits and required to complete both the PRACTICE AND SKILLS component. Similar to an apprenticeship, you will learn and enhance lawyering skills while simultaneously representing clients. In an effort to be very clear about what you are accomplishing throughout the semester, you will have classes and assignments geared specifically towards the PRACTICE component and classes and assignments geared specifically towards the SKILLS component. You must read the syllabus in its entirety to understand what is required to satisfactorily complete the course.

OFFICE HOURS

In the Gator TeamChild Juvenile Law Clinic, we have an open door policy. We enjoy teaching, supervising, and talking to interns. If you have questions please do not hesitate to stop by. Provided there is no conflict with court or client meetings, I will be available for an hour on Tuesdays and Wednesdays after our scheduled class time. You are welcome to schedule a meeting by contacting me at rawls@law.ufl.edu.

EXPECTATIONS

Time Requirements. Gator TeamChild operates simultaneously as a law office and as a classroom. It is engaged in the practice of law— representing children with real problems—and educating future lawyers in the basic skills of their profession. During the semester, you will assume full responsibility for cases. The Civil Clinic is the equivalent of a part - time job. You should expect to spend 26 hours a week to fulfill clinic responsibilities. Even after classes end, students are responsible for handling their cases. This means you must be available for clients and cases over semester breaks and until the next semester begins, when the cases are formally transferred to the new legal interns.

- Class: These meetings will be held on Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 1:00 pm – 2:50 pm. At the beginning of the semester the time will be used to cover substantive areas of juvenile law and completing assignments that will prepare you to handle cases. Later in the semester this time will be used for the following: to conduct grand rounds, additional skills training, presentations by invited guests, discussion of hot topics and court house and jail visits.
- Team Meetings & Firm Meeting: Two hours each week will be dedicated to team meetings and firm meetings. Your professor, our social worker and your clinic partner will participate in Team Meetings. You and your partner will meet for one hour with your professor and the other one hour will be spent with other members of the firm and the social work team. At the team meeting with the supervising attorney, we will discuss the details of your cases, problems and concerns you may have, how to divide up your work, and other matters that we need to discuss to keep you and your case on track. This is also time for the supervising attorney to give you feedback on your performance. During the Firm Meetings we will work together as a firm to address issues that are common among all teams or novel issues that need more attention.
- Office Hours: You must set aside at least twelve hours per week to be in the office. Your office hours must be distributed over at least four days. Our cases are somewhat unpredictable, and we have busy times and slow times. It is not unusual to spend more than twelve hours in the office.
- Other Events: Court hearings, staffings, educational meetings, and some client appointments are often scheduled at odd and unpredictable times. These events may require you to work outside of the times that you typically set aside to do client work. If you have a conflict with another College of Law class, see me as soon as you determine that you have a problem so we can work it out. As an attorney, it is your responsibility to set your own schedule to minimize conflicts.

Preparation. Adequate preparation includes identifying and researching issues in your case. We assume that you have read, understood, and digested any assigned material before class. Bring your files (in up to date, working order) to all Team Meetings. Complete all written assignments ON TIME. Extensions for completion of work will be assessed on a case by case basis. Late assignments will be considered when determining the end of the semester grade.

Participation. Agreement, disagreement, intelligent debate, and thoughtful argument are encouraged. We will brainstorm on every case. Bring your ideas and share them. We believe this is the way to give our clients our best. Students often disagree with each other, and with their supervisors, on how a case should be handled. Our cases often have an emotional aspect. We must always treat each other with respect, consideration and professionalism. We will allow you to make the final decisions on your cases to the greatest extent that we can and still avoid disbarment.

Minimum Case Requirements. Our minimum case requirements include:

- Attendance at ALL hearings, depositions, negotiation conferences, client meetings, and other client events at which you are primary counsel;
- Attendance at all hearings, depositions, negotiation conferences, and other significant client meetings and events conducted by your teammate. (Routine client meetings handled by your teammate, such as those needed to sign pleadings, are exempted from this requirement);
- Adequately preparing for court appearances and client meetings and other major case events such as depositions, negotiations, and significant client counseling sessions;
- Appropriate and timely handling of case tasks as they are identified by you, your teammate, and your supervisor at team meetings. Deadlines for task completion will typically be discussed and arranged at these meetings;
- Maintaining regular office hours in the Clinic Suite;
- Proper management of client files, both hard files and Clio files; and
- Professional representation of clients at all times.

FIRST WEEK ASSIGNMENTS

In preparing for your semester as a Certified Legal Intern, you should begin by reviewing and completing the First Week Assignments. The First Week Assignments are available here First Week Assignments. Please review the assignments carefully and pay attention to the dates as some of the assignments are due later than others. In addition, I have included readings and materials to assist you in becoming familiar with issues that are ripe and relevant in the area of law you will be immersed in throughout the semester, rules that will govern your behavior as you begin practicing law under your certified legal intern status, and standards for interviewing and counseling child clients.

WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS

The clinic requires a fair amount of writing (even without taking client work into account). The primary goal of your written assignments is to inspire you to think about and learn from what you have done and seen. Reflecting critically on theory and behavior is a central component of the Clinic experience. The old saying “learn by doing” is popular and seems true on its face, but it is only partially true. The “doing” is important, but the digestion of the experience, the extraction of every ounce of learning, is where lawyering skills develop.

Motions. At the beginning of the semester you will be required to complete 7 drafting assignments for Ashley Boyle. These assignments will consist of drafting motions, orders, and notices. The purpose of the assignment is to expose you to the following: (1) office practice when drafting documents, (2) documents that you may be required to draft for your real clients and (3) the process and procedures for filing documents with the court.

Billable Hours. Beginning the third week of classes, I expect to receive your hours each Monday by noon. You must submit your hours, in a form similar to the way you would bill a client. That includes date, activity (in detail), and time spent on the activity. For example, a notation that says, "Research, one hour" is not acceptable. "Date, Case Name, Research on the issue of right of child to child support in guardianship case; 1 hour" is acceptable. See Billable Hours Instructions for a detailed explanation for billing your hours. The billable hour form is available here Billable Hours Template updated.xls.

First Case Analysis. I will assign each student a case to review and analyze. Follow the First Case Analysis Instructions  as you begin to analyze the assigned case. You will be required to prepare a written summary of your findings. This summary will be the outline that you will use to present your case during the Grand Rounds.

Reflection Papers. You will be asked to reflect on experiences throughout the semester. You will have the opportunity to choose three experiences upon which you will elaborate on what you learned and observed. One paper must focus on an experience with a client in which you intentionally utilized specific interviewing or counseling techniques.

Mid-Term Evaluation. Each student will submit a mid-term evaluation, approximately two double-spaced typed pages, which outline: (a) what skills you need to improve, (b) which areas need more explanation by the instructor, and (c) what goals you have set for the rest of the semester.

Looking Back Paper. Each student will also submit a final paper. Your paper will include a review of your performance, areas in which you hope to improve, and your impressions of the clinical experience and how it can be improved. There is no page length requirement; we are looking for quality, not quantity. See Looking Back Paper Issues to Address for the topics that must be covered in completing the Looking Back Paper.

Transfer Memos. Prior to the end of the semester you will be required to write a transfer memo for the cases assigned to your team. See Guidelines for Writing Transfer Memo. Transfer memos MUST be completed for you to receive a passing grade in the course.

Portfolio. At the end of the semester you must submit a collection of the work that demonstrates what you have done and learned throughout the semester. The portfolio should include, but is not limited to, billable hours, written assignments, reflection papers, research assignments, class discussion notes, self-evaluation, and GTC accomplishments.

SKILLS COMPONENT:

CLASS MEETING TIMES & LOCATION

Class time will be set aside for 2 - 50 minute periods on Thursdays to work on skill related assignments. The meeting location and the time will be determined after a review of the schedules of all the students who are enrolled in the course.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

The SKILLS component of the course will track what you would have learned in the Interviewing and Counseling for Civil Clinics (also known as IC3). You will learn the theory behind the skills and models of how to apply them. Then, you will actually practice the skills through simulated client conferences. The lectures will be delivered via the web. You will be required to view the recorded lectures prior to practicing specific skills and completing specific assignments. To reinforce what you learned from the recorded lectures and assignments, during class we will discuss what you learned and engage in intense hands on practice, in which your classmates and your professor will critique your performances.

The SKILLS component is divided into modules. The introduction, interviewing, and counseling modules need to be done in the order presented. The other modules can be done out of order. All must be done on or before the stated deadlines or corresponding class.

Most of these modules will also have a web component containing a recorded lecture, slide show, video snippets, and other content. You will be provided links here on canvas. Note that you will be assigned to reflect on and respond to readings, videos, hypotheticals, etc. More information can be found in the assignments themselves. Some assignments may require you to video your performances for later review. As you refine your skills, you will conduct out of class complete interview and counseling conferences with an assigned partner, then meet with your professor for critique. Again, more information can be found in the assignments themselves.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

By the end of this course, you should possess fundamental skills in the following:

1. Planning the interview
2. Introducing yourself and beginning the interview
3. Soliciting a narrative
4. Transitioning from narrative to post-narrative at the appropriate time
5. Use of T and I funnels
6. Developing a chronology / time line
7. Ending the interview

8. Using listening skills
9. Asking appropriate questions
10. Motivating communications
11. Developing rapport
12. Ascertaining what the client wants to accomplish
13. Planning to counsel your client
14. Conducting the counseling conference, with the ultimate goal of helping your client decide what on the best course of action
15. Interviewing witnesses
16. Working with victims of domestic violence
17. Setting boundaries with your clients
18. And more... .

As noted earlier, you will learn the basics. Much more learning and practice will be needed for you to master interviewing and counseling clients.

COURSE MATERIALS

Herman and Cary, A Practical Approach to Client Interviewing, Counseling, and Decision-Making (LexisNexis 2009). This is available on Amazon, in both print and Kindle versions. The LexisNexis store also has it (more expensive). Perhaps the UFLaw bookstore could get you a copy as well.

An alternative is Herman and Cary, Legal Counseling, Negotiating, and Mediating: A Practical Approach (LexisNexis 2d Edition 2009). This text was used in UFLaw's Interviewing, Counseling, and Negotiation course, so you might be able to find it used. The interviewing and counseling portions are essentially the same as the other Herman and Cary book.

Do not buy both Herman and Cary books. Just pick one.

To distinguish these books, the first will be called Herman 1, and the second, Herman 2. You will also be assigned readings from a variety of sources. They are as important as the text.

You will need a LAPTOP COMPUTER and a WEB CAMERA (either built into the laptop, or stand-alone), with software that allows you to record video to your laptop using the web cam. This will be used to record your performances so you and your professor can review them. You will also need high speed Internet for the streamed videos to play correctly. Before your clinic semester starts, please make sure your equipment works.

EXPECTATIONS

We assume, and expect, that you will complete all assignments and learn what the readings teach, so you can benefit from observing and analyzing demonstrated skills, and begin to practice those skills yourself. We will not micro manage you, or ask if you finished the readings; we might not even discuss them, as they are intended to help you develop your skills and understand the theory behind the choices that you will make as you engage in the practice of law, not "be on the test."

As for time commitments, you must utilize 2 hours each week of the twelve (12) weekly office hours to work on assignments geared towards the SKILLS component of the course. These 2 hours can be used to observe and evaluate court appearances, depositions, client interviews, client counseling sessions and recording/reviewing videos. The goal is to put you in a position to enhance the skills that you are learning.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

ACCOMMODATIONS FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Students with disabilities requesting accommodations should first register with the Disability Resource Center (352-392-8565) by providing appropriate documentation. Once registered, students will receive an accommodation letter which must be presented to the instructor when requesting accommodation. Students with disabilities should follow this procedure as early as possible in the semester. <https://drc.dso.ufl.edu/>

ONLINE COURSE EVALUATIONS

Students are expected provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing online evaluations at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu> (Links to an external site.)Links to an external site.. Evaluations are typically open during the last two or three weeks of the semester, but students will receive notice of the specific times when they are open. Summary results of these assessments are available to students at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu/results/> (Links to an external site.)Links to an external site..

COURSE ETHICS

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, "We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: "On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment." The Honor Code specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with your professor. The student honor code can be located at <https://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct-honor-code/> (Links to an external site.)Links to an external site..

Specific to the SKILLS component, because we use so many role play exercises, there are many opportunities to game the system. For example, we know of instances in which students have traded role play instructions to make the exercise "easier" and the students appear better prepared. If you read any confidential instructions than your own, or access any other information regarding the SKILL component exercises during this or earlier semesters, we consider this to be an honor code violation.

If you obtain the wrong instructions for a role play, notify your professor immediately so the problem can be corrected.

No matter what you do in your future legal life you will use the essential skills of client interviewing and counseling. It takes years of practice to master the science and art of these skills, but you can learn the essentials in a relatively short time.
