

UF LAW BINDING DECISION OPTION

Applicants for Fall 2024 admission may apply through the UF Law Binding Decision option if they will have completed all the academic work required to receive a bachelor's degree by May 2024.

Option Description:

- The Binding Decision application option is designed for applicants who are certain that UF Law is their first choice. Admissions decisions are binding; students admitted through this option will be required to submit a binding enrollment commitment form within one week of being admitted. If you are not sure about your choice of law school, you should apply for regular admission.
- Binding Decision may increase your chance of being accepted.
- Applicants admitted under the Binding Decision option will be considered for merit scholarships but are not guaranteed a scholarship award. You should only apply through the Binding Decision option if you are willing to enroll at UF Law even if you do not receive a scholarship.
- Applicants admitted through the Binding Decision option will not have to pay the $200 non-refundable enrollment deposit.
- Candidates applying through the Binding Decision option will have their applications reviewed on the same timeline as Regular Decision candidates. This is not an early action program.
