About this Course

Traditionally, the fundamental characteristic of state constitutions is that they are limiting documents as compared with the Federal Constitution, which is a grant of enumerated powers to Congress. The states are the fundamental and original governing units in our federal system, and therefore, are understood to have plenary power, except where this power has been limited by federal law or the state constitution. The Florida Constitution is the basic rule book for the power struggles represented by the cases contained in this book. Florida courts interpret this rule book todelineate power between branches of government, between private parties and government and between levels of government (e.g., state and local).

Generally, state constitutions are more detailed and particular than is the Federal Constitution, and they are easier to amend. This is certainly true of Florida's Constitution, and recent years have seen a plethora of highly regulatory amendments that do not really fit the traditional constitutional characteristics described above. Many of these have been adopted by popular initiative. As the introductory materials chronicle, the Florida Constitution is the sixth constitution since 1838, and the current constitution has been amended numerous times since its adoption in 1968.

Florida Constitutional Law is a survey course. As such, this course is designed to give students an overview of the various provisions of the state constitution, an understanding of how Florida courts have interpreted and applied the state constitution, and an introduction into the workings of state and local governments. The course will follow the order of the document itself, addressing: 1) the basic rights provided by the Florida Constitution; 2) Separation of Powers, as understood in Floridajurisprudence; 3) the operation of the branches of government (legislative, executive and judicial); taxing and bonding issues; 5) local government; 6) education; 7) miscellaneous issues such as homestead and eminent domain; and 8) the amendment and revision process.

Course Materials

Mills, Adkins & McLendon, Florida Constitutional Law: Cases in Context (Carolina Academic Press, 2021).

Unless otherwise indicated, the reading assignments refer to the required casebook. Students are expected to have completed the assigned readings prior to class. Assignment pages refer to the casebook. Otherwise, as indicated in syllabus, additional readings may be posted on Canvas.

Students also are expected to read additional materials as indicated and as posted on the Canvaspage, usually in either pdf or html format.

Course Objectives and Student Learning Outcomes

After completing this course, students should be expected to:

1. Understand and apply the role of state constitutions in comparison with the United States Constitution.

- 2. Understand and apply the elements of the Bill of Rights in Florida and how they interact with Federal Law.
- 3. Understand and analyze the relative authority and relationship of the Legislative, Executive, and Judicial branches.
- 4. Understand and interpret the jurisdiction of Florida laws.
- 5. Understand and interpret the tax and funding structure in Florida.
- 6. Understand and analyze the role and authority of local government.

After completing this course, students will have been:

- 1. Exposed to Florida Supreme Court Justices.
- 2. Exposed to seeing constitutional issues argued in the Florida Supreme Court.

Expectations:

It is anticipated that you will spend approximately 2 hours out of class reading and/or preparing for in- class assignments. You will be devoting time to your readings for each class; please be prepared for about 80 pages of reading each week.

Attendance and Participation

Attendance will be taken at each class meeting. Students are allowed 6 absences during the course of the semester. Students are responsible for ensuring that they are not recorded as absentif they come in late. A student who fails to meet the attendance requirement will be dropped from the course and will not be allowed to take the final examination.

Student participation in class is encouraged and will be considered in assigning a final grade. The degree of student participation will doubtless affect the quality and interest of classdiscussions. Students are expected to be prepared for each class.

Excused absences are consistent with university policies in the undergraduate catalog (https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/currcnt/regulations/info/attendance.aspx) and require appropriate documentation.

Observance of Religious Holidays

UF Law respects students' observance of religious holidays.

- Students, upon prior notification to their instructors, shall be excused from class or other scheduled academic activity to observe a religious holy day of their faith.
- Students shall be permitted a reasonable amount of time to make up the material or activities covered in their absence.
- Students shall not be penalized due to absence from class or other scheduled academic activity because of religious observances.

Final Examination

The final examination will be a 4-hour take home, online, open book and open notes essay exam during the designated exam schedule. The exam will consist of 5 or 6 hypotheticals with limited space for answers. Instructions for the examination will be provided later in the semester.

Exam Delays and Accommodations

The law school policy on exam delays and accommodations can be found here.

Grades

Your grade for this course will depend on how well you perform on your final exam. Examinations will be graded anonymously; however, as mentioned above, participation will be factored into a student's final grade as well.

Your grade in this class will be based on your performance on an open book final exam. This grade may be adjusted upward based on exceptional classroom performance. Initial grades on the final exam are always done anonymously, and we never lower anyone's grade after we turn the blind grades in. Quality of participation counts. If we call on you to contribute to classroom discussion, and you decline, we will come back to you the following day and call on you again toparticipate.

Course Evaluations

Students are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing online evaluations at https://evaluations.ufl.edu. Evaluations are typically open during the last twoor three weeks of the semester, but students will be given specific times when they are open. Summary results of these assessments are available to students at https://evaluations.ufl.edu/results/.

Requesting Accommodations

Students with disabilities requesting accommodations should first register with the Disability Resource Center (352-392-8565, www.dso.ufl.edu/drc/) by providing appropriate documentation. Once registered, students will receive an accommodation letter which must be presented to the instructor when requesting accommodation. Students with disabilities should follow this procedure as early as possible in the semester.

Internet Policy and Related Issues

The internet, and more generally your laptop, is a great learning tool and invaluable asset to effective advocates. It should be used during class time as you will use it in practice: responsibly and ethically, consistent with the high professional standards that will be expected of you by yourclients and by those who will employ you. This is important not only to you, but also to all the students around you who are affected by how you use your computer. It can be distracting to yourclassmates if you use your computer for activities unrelated to class. When you are talking, you should lower your laptop to facilitate communication.

Cell phones, tablets, and other electronic equipment should be turned off and not used during class. If you need to leave your phone on vibrate to receive an emergency call, please feel free todo so.

Recording in Class

All classes will be recorded via Mediasite in case students must miss class for health reasons. The Office of Student Affairs will work with faculty to determine when students may have access to these recordings, and the recordings will be password protected. It is the student's responsibility to contact the Office of Student Affairs as soon as possible after an absence.

University Honesty Policy and Academic Misconduct

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, "We, the members of the University ofFlorida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: "On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment." The Honor Code (https://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct-honor-code/) specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel.

Academic honesty and integrity are fundamental values of the University community. Students should be sure that they understand the UF Student Honor Code at http://www.dso.ufl.edu/students.php.
